

Architects of Asia: Building Our Future

What is Harvard Project for Asian and International Relations (HPAIR)?

HPAIR is an organization at Harvard University that aims to create a forum of exchange for students and young professionals to discuss and learn about the most important issues facing the Asia-Pacific region. Since 1991, HPAIR has organized 49 conferences in 34 different host countries, transforming the lives of more than 40,000 students and young professionals.

Across our conferences, HPAIR regularly invites world-class leaders across politics, business, media, culture, and social activism. Some of our past speakers include Ban Ki-Moon, the former Secretary-General of the United Nations, Kevin Rudd, the former Prime Minister of Australia, S R Nathan, the former President of Singapore, Robin Chase, co-founder and former CEO of Zipcar, and Frank Friedman, current COO of Deloitte Global.

How do I get involved?

HPAIR is hosting a global conference in Hong Kong this August 22nd to 26th, 2023 for all driven, innovative people like you!

Come join us and a worldwide community of leaders, learners, and changemakers — both current and future — as we deliberate the issues of the day in a forum more than suited for such discussions.

Features of the conference:

- Lively fireside chats, thought-provoking keynotes, mind-bending impact case study challenges with Fortune 500 Companies

Hong Kong
